Quality remained very good across this week's reduced yarding, with numbers easing to 296 head. Despite the smaller offering, buyer confidence remained extremely strong, with processors, feeders and restockers competing vigorously for quality stock. Demand continued to favour well-bred, well-finished cattle, particularly feeder-suited yearlings.

Vealers again attracted exceptional competition, with prices lifting further on recent sales.

Angus vealer steers sold to a top of 586.2c/kg, while Charolais cross vealer steers reached 584.2c/kg. Angus vealer heifers sold to 540.2c/kg, while Charolais cross vealer heifers topped at 584.0c/kg, reflecting intense competition from restocker and feeder buyers.

Yearling cattle continued to be the feature of the sale, with feeder demand remaining extremely strong. Angus yearling steers averaged an outstanding 598.4c/kg and sold to 656.4c/kg, while Angus cross steers reached 560.2c/kg. Charolais, Hereford and Limousin cross steers all sold above 558c/kg, highlighting the depth of competition across feeder categories. Yearling heifers also continued their impressive run, with Angus heifers averaging 528.5c/kg and topping at 580.2c/kg, while mixed breed and Angus cross heifers regularly sold above 540c/kg. Cow numbers remained limited, however quality was generally very good. Heavy cows sold into another firm processor market, with Angus cows averaging 387.7c/kg and topping at 412.0c/kg. Angus cross cows sold to 412.0c/kg, while the better finished heavy cows generally ranged between 380–412c/kg. Competition remained strongest for heavy export weight cows, while secondary cows were more variable depending on condition. Heavy bulls remained firm overall, with Angus cross bulls averaging 369.9c/kg and topping at 410.0c/kg. Overall, the market remains at exceptionally strong levels, underpinned by continued confidence from feeder buyers and export processors. While numbers remain tight, quality cattle continue to command premium prices, with feeder yearlings once again leading the market and vealers recording further gains. Heavy cows remained firm on recent rates, reinforcing the sustained strength of the current cattle market.
