A successful career in business presented Ross Bauer with a unique opportunity to semi-retire early and pursue his long-held passion for property and customer-centric service.

Without needing to compromise customer outcomes for commissions, Ross quickly built a reputation as an exceptional negotiator delivering ongoing area sales records and achieving the lowest percentage variance between list and sell price. This resulted in maximising the return to the vendor, often up to an additional 15%. Outstanding client experiences led many customers to spur him on to launch an agency of his own – and that's exactly what he did.

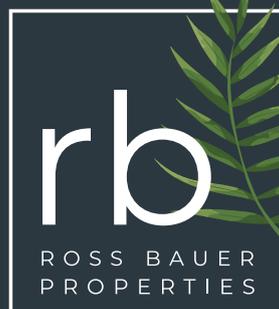

Ross is dedicated to exceeding his clients' expectations. Whether they're selling a beachside shack in Coolum or a multi-million-dollar waterfront mansion in Noosa Heads the needs are the same. It's about transparent, honest and personable service backed up with an unwavering work ethic, expertise in negotiation and a determination to succeed.

A willingness to go above and beyond for his clients has seen Ross be awarded a swag of industry honours including Platinum, Silver and Bronze Awards for Residential sales and multiple Annual Ruby Masters Club Awards. For Ross, it is a genuine privilege to be a part of the solution for what is likely one of the biggest financial and lifestyle decisions most people will make in their life.

While no two days may be the same from a professional sense for Ross, each day starts with an early morning surf with his family. Whether he's out in the water, competing in triathlons or camping with his family, there's nowhere else in the world Ross would rather live and his passion for the region is infectious.
